

Garrison Retail Supply Chain (GRSC)

Logistics Board Briefing

Overview

- GRSC Initiative
- Background
- Goals
- Benefits
- ServMart Rollout
- Next Steps

GRSC Initiative

- GSA solution for USMC garrison enterprise-wide supply chain was to establish a 4PL model to meet or exceed USMC requirements at current or less cost
- Integration of all companies involved along supply chain under a single point of oversight
 - Planning, steering, controlling of all logistics procedures
 - Flow of information, material, and capital
 - Single service provider with long-term strategic objectives
- Establishment of Garrison Retail Supply Chain Office in I&L (LPC) for implementation, oversight / performance analysis, and establish policy

Background

- 2006 CENSEO Study
 - $100.5M Total DSSC demands
 - $65.8M (65%) DSSC spend
 - $14.5M (14%) DoD E-mail spend for DSSC items
 - $20.2M (20%) GCPC for DSSC items
 - Shifting just 10% of GCPC and DoD E-mail spending could result in a $3.5M in saving
 - Additional saving maybe realized in GSA pricing model for the GRSC initiative
 - Current GSA depot model pricing markup 51%
 - GRSC markup 4 - 15%
- 26 Oct 07 - A signed MOA committed the Marine Corps and GSA to a Garrison Retail Supply Chain partnership
- 10 Nov 07 - USMC Virtual ServMart Launched

Help

Welcome to the USMC ServMart

On 26 October 2007, Major General Edward G. Usher, Deputy Commandant for Installations and Logistics, and Commissioner James A. Williams of GSA's Federal Acquisition Service signed a Memorandum of Agreement to designate GSA as the 4th-party logistics (4PL) provider for readily available commercial supplies.

Speaking of the agencies' collaboration on this supply concept, General Usher said "I'm so impressed with how far we've moved ahead in this effort. We built the plan, moved into assembly, and now we're maneuvering. We're achieving our objectives."

The goal is to provide Marine Corps customers with quick, consistent access to a wide array of products while minimizing time and costs spent on routine purchases. All orders are requisitions and can be placed via government purchase card or valid RUC. While this site has just begun its pilot testing phase, we invite you to explore and submit any comments or suggestions to usmcservmart@gsa.gov. Check back often as we continually work to improve the site and increase the product offerings.

Thanks for visiting.
